

CENTRAL PIEDMONT COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Healing our community

For almost 50 years, CPCC has been building leaders who pursue meaningful careers that significantly contribute to the community.

One such alumna is Paula Vincent, whose nursing talents and professional skills are healing our community - making it a better place to live and work.

Says Paula, "CPCC gave me self-confidence; as a result I've grown beyond what is expected in my profession, to be extraordinary in my profession."
